Information

This page contains information on the application for the review of an on-the-spot fine.

Legislation relating to the procedure

Act II of 2012 on Misdemeanours, the Misdemeanour Procedure and the Misdemeanour Registry System

Procedure

Submitting an application for the review of an on-the-spot fine

Any person subject to an on-the-spot fine may request that the authority or person imposing the fine review the decision of its own motion.

The application for the review of the on-the-spot fine (hereinafter: the application) has to be sent to the authority imposing the fine.

Electronic attachments can be added to the application.

Receipt of the application

Applications and attachments submitted electronically through the Client Gateway (Ügyfélkapu) are forwarded to the document management system of the Police via the Central Electronic Service System (KözpontiRendszer). The client receives notification thereof from the Central Electronic Service System. The application and its attachments automatically reach the authority that they are addressed to via the document management system of the Police and the applicant receives an automatic notification of the fact. Lack of an automatic notification from the document management system of the Police means that the application and its attachments have not reached the relevant authority. In that case we suggest that the applicant contact the relevant authority by telephone.

Processing the application

If the authority or person imposing the on-the-spot fine establishes that the fine imposed violates an act of law, it shall modify or revoke its decision. The Police shall forward an electronically authenticated and issued copy of the decision to the Client Gateway storage space of the applicant. If the authority or person imposing the fine establishes that the conditions for modifying or revoking the decision are not met, it shall notify the person subject to the fine of its standpoint. In most cases, the applicant's personal appearance is not required during the judgement of the application.
