Procedure

As a general offense authority, the bodies set up by the police to carry out general police tasks are designated as offense authorities.

In the cases specified by law, the public area superintendent may impose a fine in the event of a violation.

1. If the offender fails to pay the final fine within the time limit set by law, the offender shall be enforced at the place of residence or place of residence of the offender or, failing that, by the general offending authority competent for the place where the offense was committed.
2. Where, after the initiation of enforcement proceedings, the imposing authority finds that the offender has paid the on-site fine within the time-limit set by law or the on-the-spot fine has been withdrawn by a review procedure, the competent the police offense authority must be notified.

The ÁNYK Form is intended to provide a facility for public area supervisors with authority to submit a fine for offense that has been finally imposed and not paid to the competent police offense authorities ("the Authority") for enforcement, or the revocation of enforcement.

An on-the-spot fine imposed on a known perpetrator and not paid shall first be sent to the competent authority of the place where the offender is resident (settlement address) or, failing that, sent to the competent authority of the place where the offense was committed.

The form contains structured fields which, when properly filled in, will ensure that the complaint is automatically submitted to the authority competent for the procedure.

In order to ensure efficient administration, it is important that forms should be completed and submitted on a case-by-case basis.

Any number of attachments (but at least 1) can be attached to the case, up to a maximum size limit of 300 MB per forms.
